

CORONER'S VERDICT RECOMMENDS HENRY BE HELD TO MORGAN COUNTY GRAND JURY

IS DECLARED RESPONSIBLE FOR DEATHS OF EVERETT AND HOWARD CRAIN LAST TUESDAY NIGHT

Finding Does Not Fix Blame for the Killing of Charles Ezard—Great Throng Heard Evidence Taken at Woodson Inquiry—
Wives and Children of Murdered Men Gave Testimony—Mrs. Ezard Believes Henry Was Crazy Drunk When He Committed Deeds of Violence.

The coroner, George Wright, with John G. Reynolds, assistant, the sheriff, Messrs. Isaac Watson, Stansfield Baldwin and Dan Moy representing the Anti Horse Thief association went to Woodson Monday morning for the purpose of holding the inquest over the death of Charles Ezard Everett and Howard Crain and the verdicts were as follows:

"We the jury find that Charles Crain came to his death from the shot of a gun in the hands of John W. Henry and we recommend that he be held to the grand jury."

The same in regard to Howard Crain.

"We the jury find that Everett Ezard came to his death from the shot of a gun held by John W. Henry while he was scuffling with his wife."

This was the result of the inquiry into the sad circumstances which have cast a gloom over the community of Woodson. The work took a good part of the day including almost two hours occupied by the jury in arriving at a verdict.

Mrs. Ezard and her daughter had been invited to the home of her sister Mrs. Charles Taylor in Woodson where the jury first went.

Mrs. Ezard testified.

Her testimony was substantially as follows:

"My name is Mrs. Nettie M. Ezard, wife of the late Charles Ezard and I live a mile south of Woodson, Tuesday evening, January 27th, we were sitting at the supper table when we heard a knock at the door leading into the room in which the table was standing. My husband went to the door and found Mrs. John Henry standing there. She said her husband had been drinking and was after her with a gun. She said she had heard him coming up the railroad track behind her and my husband stepped to the door to see if any one was there but seeing no one he returned and took his seat at the table. I asked Mrs. Henry to sit at the table also and she did so and ate a little with us. While at the door my husband said he thought he heard some one climbing over the hedge in the rear of the house. He had hardly got back and taken his seat when John Henry appeared at the door. He had his gun in his hand and said to his wife: 'Do you, I'll shoot you.'"

Mrs. Henry was sitting at my end of the table, the farthest away from the door. As Mr. Henry spoke we all jumped up except my husband. Mr. Henry said to his wife:

"You have run over me as long as you are going to. You are running after that ladies' aid society and neglecting your family."

She said:

"Haven't you had plenty to eat and good clothes to wear?"

"You have treated me like a dog. Now get on your wraps and go home with me, your children are there all alone."

"I will not go home till you come in and sit down."

"I will not come in; you get your wraps and go home."

And at that time he raised his gun to shoot. We all screamed and jumped up. He told my husband not to get up for he would shoot him if he did.

My husband said:

"Oh God, John, don't shoot me for the sake of my wife and babies."

His wife said:

"Are you not ashamed to come here and make so much trouble?"

He asked her to go home and she said she wouldn't do it and my husband said he wished she would for our sakes.

Mr. Henry kept pointing the gun at his wife and my husband and she stepped up to him and grabbed at the gun and it went off the shot going over the table into the west partition and missing my daughter's head no more than a foot.

My husband was sitting at the east side of the table near the door with his back to it. When the shot was fired it put out the light and I ran into the front room to see if my baby had been strangled by the smoke. I didn't know then who had been killed. I saw the baby gasping for breath and knew he was all right. Just then Mrs. Henry shouted:

"Charles, come and help me get the gun from him."

Did Not See Husband Shot.

And at that instant it went off again. My daughter was in the front room at that time. I took the lamp into the kitchen and placed it on the table and then looked around and saw my husband laying on the floor.

I forgot to say that while Henry was talking in the door a motion was made to go to the telephone and Mr. Henry stopped it saying he would shoot any one who called over the

NANTUCKET CAPTAIN HELD FOR NEGLIGENCE

CHARGES OF NEGLIGENCE PREFERRED AGAINST CAPT. BERRY

Secretary Redfield Gives No Intimation as to the Specific Nature of the Negligence to Be Charged Against the Skipper of the Nantucket.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Secretary Redfield late today directed that charges of negligence be preferred against Captain Osman Berry of the Merchants and Miners' Steamship Nantucket, which collided with and sank the Old Dominion Liner Monroe, with a loss of forty-one lives, off the Virginia coast last Friday.

No intimation was given as to the specific nature of the negligence to be charged against the Nantucket's skipper. The two vessels met in a dense fog early Friday morning, the Monroe bound up the coast from Norfolk for New York and the Nantucket steaming southward from Boston for Norfolk.

The Nantucket drove her bow into the starboard side of the Monroe, causing her to sink within a few minutes.

While the charges against Captain Berry are under investigation a special committee of the department, George Uhler, supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service and E. T. Chamberlain, commissioner of navigation will undertake a particular inquiry into the facts and conditions surrounding the collision, with the view to suggesting action by the department or changes on the lessons taught by the disaster. A statement from the department announcing the results of today's conference said:

"The department has given instruction to Inspector Tapley to prefer charges against Captain Berry. This will be done without delay and the board of local inspectors at Philadelphia will hear all the testimony which may be produced on both sides and render its decision. An appeal may be taken from the decision of this board to the supervising inspector of the Philadelphia district and a further appeal may be taken to the supervising inspector general. The local board of inspectors at Philadelphia has been asked to conduct this investigation, because neither vessel sails from that port and because the local board at Norfolk will appear as bringing the charges through the testimony taken by it as above described."

DIXON MAY BE SELECTED FOR STATE EPILEPTIC COLONY

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Feb. 2.—Dixon will probably be selected by the state board of administration as the site for the new state epileptic colony, providing the conditions imposed by the state are met. It has been tentatively agreed to purchase 1,000 acres of land a quarter of a mile from Dixon at an average of $200 an acre. Before the transfer is made though, the board wants assurance that the street car line will be extended to the site, that the Illinois Central railroad will build a switch; and that figures on the cost of service be furnished by the Northern Illinois Utilities company. A test well will be sunk to ascertain whether or not the water supply is up to requirements.

REBELS SURROUND TORREON; FEDERALS DO NOT OPEN FIRE

Villa Will Direct Battle After Few Days Stay In Chihuahua City

ADOPT USUAL METHOD

Courier from Torreon Says Rebels Surround City Long Before They Expect to Fight

TWO AMERICANS ARE SAFE

JUAREZ, Mex. Feb. 2.—With his army of 12,000 rebels already advanced to points north of Torreon and awaiting word to open the attack on that city General Francisco Villa planned to leave tonight or early tomorrow for Chihuahua, whence after a stay of several days he will himself march south to direct the opening of the battle. How long General Villa will remain in Chihuahua will depend upon the rapidity with which the train loads of ammunition and rations can be dispatched southward. A courier who arrived from Torreon said the rebel advance guards already had surrounded the city but that General Refugio Velasco federal troops had not opened fire. The courier said the rebels were adopting their usual method of surrounding the city long before they expected to engage the enemy. The federal soldiers in Torreon, it was said, were being kept in ignorance of recent rebel victories.

General Marcello Caraveo, one of the volunteer federal generals who escaped from Ojinaga had arrived in Torreon and was given a triumphant reception because he informed the soldiers that the rebels had been defeated at Ojinaga according to the courier.

"I don't think there is any doubt that we will capture Torreon," said General Villa today, "but I think it will be one of the severest battles of the revolution. The Huertistas are desperate. They are evidently concentrating every available man at Torreon. I am not making any predictions as to when the battle will begin or end."

Mexican federal sympathizers protested to the United States army officials in El Paso that Raul Madero, brother of the late president and an officer on Villa's staff was permitted to go to the American side. Madero has been daily in the hotels and at social affairs on the American side. The Mexicans complained that this was a violation of the neutrality laws and was not the same treatment as accorded General Mercado and other federal officers who are held prisoners at Fort Bliss because they crossed the river. General Carranza, according to information soon will start from Cuernavaca, Sinaloa for Juarez and Chihuahua, coming by automobile from Mexico to Casas Grandes or Guzman on the Mexican Northwestern and thence by train.

Americans Safe.

San Diego, Cal., Feb. 2.—Robert Harwood an Oakland, Cal., newspaper man and Mortimer Miller, a companion, who were reported executed by Mexican federal authorities reach Ensenada, Lower California under guard late today. Claude Guyant, United States consul there reported the arrival by telegraph.

The men are charged with smuggling arms into Mexico and were taken from Tia Juana to Ensenada, the provincial capital, for trial. They should have arrived there Saturday. In response to a request from Secretary Bryan, Mr. Guyant forwarded an official report of the occurrence to Washington tonight.

Diaz Agent Executed.

Juarez, Mexico, Feb. 2.—Francisco Guzman who figured prominently in the revolt against President Madero in Mexico City a year ago was executed in the front yard of a house occupied by General Francisco Villa here today. Guzman had just come from Havana where it was charged he had been given a secret mission by Felix Diaz to induce General Villa to renounce General Carranza and throw the strength of the revolution to Diaz.

As soon as he heard of the proposal General Villa gave Guzman a conference and after making sure of the nature of the visit ordered the messenger executed.

Within a few minutes after his arrival Guzman was led out of Villa's room, stood up before an adobe wall and with his hands tied and eyes blindfolded, was shot by a rebel officer in charge of the railroads who happened to be present when the execution was ordered.

It was at first reported that Bonales Sandoval, an attorney of Mexico City was the victim but Sandoval who was reported to be on a similar mission for Diaz, took refuge in the United States several days ago.

Guzman formerly was a private secretary to Dr. E. Vasquez Gomez. He was known as one of the promoters of Orozco's revolution, and later joined

H. M. PINDELL DECLINES RUSSIAN APPOINTMENT

PEORIA EDITOR REFUSES AMBASSADORSHIP TO RUSSIA

Declares Long Delay in Confirmation of His Nomination Prejudiced Him and That He Did Not Feel That He Could Give President Wilson the Full Benefit of His Services.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Henry M. Pindell of Peoria, Ill., who recently was nominated and confirmed as ambassador to Russia has declined the appointment, according to a letter to the president made public at the white house today.

Now in St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Feb. 2.—Henry M. Pindell, whose declination of Russian ambassadorship was announced in Washington today, came to St. Louis this afternoon to see his mother, who is ill. He is stopping at the home of a sister in the western part of the city.

Late tonight Mr. Pindell gave a representative of The Associated Press an explanation of his declination of the ambassadorship. He said:

"I have absolute faith in the principles of President Wilson's administration and its integrity in the fight for these principles. I believe so deeply in the opportunity of democracy at the present time that I could not think of hindering it in the slightest degree."

"The president's faith in me obligated me to the extreme of loyalty in return."

"When did you decide not to accept the appointment to Russia," Mr. Pindell was asked.

"That really is a hard question to answer," he replied. "My conclusion in the matter was a slow mental development. The action of the senate sub-committee to which my appointment was referred was so delayed by the illness of Senator Stone and by the rest of the senate to finish the currency bill, that I came to feel that the delay—the unavoidably unfortunate circumstances to which the appointment thus was subjected—prevented me from going with the self assurance that I desired if I would represent the administration as the president trusted me to do."

"Consequently the feeling grew on me that it was my duty having been vindicated to decline the ambassadorship—I felt that I ought not to go unless I could give the president the full benefit of my services. I thought that the long delay had prejudiced me and with that feeling it seemed to me that my usefulness would be impaired."

DAIRMEN CONDEMN DUNNE'S MANDATORY TUBERCULIN TEST

Milk Producers' Association Would "Purge" Itself of Officers Who Favor Test.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Resolutions condemning approval by the Illinois Dairymen's association of Governor Dunne's proclamation making mandatory the tuberculin test for cattle in this state were passed here today at the annual convention of the milk producers association composed of dairymen of Illinois with a few members in Indiana and Wisconsin.

The resolution demanded that the legislature refrain from appropriating money for use of the state dairymen's association until the dairymen's body had "purged itself" of officers who favored the tuberculin test.

The dairymen announced their approval of the governor's attitude at a meeting last week in Freeport, Ill.

WILL NOT CHANGE DATES.

Washington, Feb. 2.—Prospects for legislation to change the dates for the beginning of congress, the term of the president and the inauguration, were checked today when the senate judiciary committee voted to report adversely on a constitutional amendment resolution proposed by Senator Shafer.

The Shafer amendment would have advanced the commencement of the presidential term from March fourth, to second Monday in January following election and would have fixed the beginning of each new congress to the first Monday in January instead of first 4th.

FILES DAMAGE SUIT.

Taylorville, Ills., Feb. 2.—A damage suit for $20,000 was filed here today against Fay D. Slate, editor of the Mt. Auburn Ills., Tribune by Mrs. Carrie Lee Windsor, whose husband, Dr. R. H. Windsor was killed by Slate on May 16th, 1913. Slate pleaded self defense and was acquitted last November.

ed with Juerta in the conspiracy against the late president.

An effort was made at first to conceal Guzman's summary execution but inquiry as to a pool of blood in Villa's yard revealed the fact and later rebel leaders admitted Guzman had been buried a few hours after he had been seen alive on the street.

The execution of those upon whom the rebels look a political enemies is said to be in line with a recent order from General Carranza that all those who took an active part in the overthrow of Madero must be put to death.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING ENDS IN DISORDER

DEMAND THAT MURPHY RETIRE FROM TAMMANY LEADERSHIP

Resolution is Adopted Demanding Change in Leadership and Reorganization of State and County Committees in Greater New York.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—A meeting of the National Democratic club ended in disorder tonight after a resolution demanding that Charles F. Murphy be retired from the leadership of Tammany Hall had been declared adopted on an aye and nay vote.

When the chairman announced the result of the vote fists were shaken, threats were made and hard names used. It was fully ten minutes before a semblance of order was restored.

Friends of Mr. Murphy declared the resolution had been carried by an illegal vote and said they would lay the matter in the form of a protest before the board of governors of the organization.

The resolution was introduced by City Court Justice Edward F. O'Dwyer, president of the club. A bitter speech in reply to the resolution was made by Thomas F. Smith, secretary of Tammany Hall, whose demand that the resolution be tabled was ignored by Justice O'Dwyer. Justice O'Dwyer's resolution read:

"Resolved, That we favor the immediate reorganization of the Democratic state committee and of the county committees in Greater New York."

"That we are opposed to the present leadership of Charles F. Murphy and declare our belief that the interests of the Democratic party, its future prestige and success demands his immediate retirement from all participation in party affairs."

Prior to introducing the resolution Justice O'Dwyer reviewed past successes of the Democratic party in the state and city and declared the defeat of the entire Democratic ticket at the last election, "for the first time in the history of the party by a majority of the voters" was not the fault of the candidates, for "they were as good a set of men as ever ran for office."

"The cause that led to our defeat," he continued, "was an issue that was presented to the people charging us with corruption and with being grafters. And gentlemen, evidence has been produced since in a court of record that proved some of those charges. Now I am not a grafter and I do not intend to mingle with grafters. We have seen the spectacle of men swearing in court that money was paid for state contracts and no accounting was ever made for this money. Some of the charges have been proved and even if some of them are not the people have arrived at a verdict and have determined that the charges are true. They showed that at the last election and if we ever want to go before the people again with candid dates we will have to get rid of that element in our party that is responsible for this state of affairs."

Smith Defends Murphy.

Justice O'Dwyer then introduced his resolution and Mr. Smith demanded to be heard. He said it was amazing that Justice O'Dwyer should say that what had been brought out in the John Doe inquiry "constitutes the guilt of every man mentioned."

Mr. Smith then began a defense of Mr. Murphy, declaring that political leaders always were the targets for all kinds of attacks, many of which were unfounded.

Shaking his fist at Justice O'Dwyer, Mr. Smith shouted:

"If anyone can show me that Charles F. Murphy is guilty of one half the allegations made against him I will be one of the first to annihilate him."

He then made a motion to lay the O'Dwyer resolution on the table but Justice O'Dwyer declared the motion not in order and said the vote would be taken on the adoption of the resolution.

A thunderous "aye" was the response and a moment later seemingly just as loud a "no" was given. President O'Dwyer then announced the resolution passed. Smith demanded that a ballot vote be taken but his demand was unheeded and the meeting adjourned.

After the meeting Justice O'Dwyer said the resolution had been adopted in the regular manner and that the club would go ahead with its plans to change the leadership and re-organize the party.

ACCUSE EXPERTS OF JUGGLING FIGURES IN NAVY YEAR BOOK

1913 Book Makes American Navy Appear Inferior to German Navy

QUESTION SEC'Y DANIELS

Representatives Quiz Secretary on Alleged Omissions and Faulty Comparisons in Year Book

3 BATTLESHIPS OUT OF LIST

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—That experts of the navy department juggled the statistics in the navy year book for 1913 to make the American navy appear inferior to the German navy and thereby set the United States down from second to third place as a naval power, was charged today by Representatives Witherspoon of Mississippi and Hensley of Missouri, members of the house naval affairs commission. With Secretary Daniels before the committee the two congressmen who are strongly opposed to a "big navy" questioned him on what they declared were omissions and faulty comparisons in the year book.

The secretary explained that he was not an expert in comparing navies and said he had relied on what experts in the navy had advised him about the facts.

In their questioning the congressmen brought out that three American battleships, the Oregon, Massachusetts and Indiana, which are of the same tonnage and of heavier armament than the ten listed German battleships are left out of the United States list altogether, and that the year book instead of giving the United States thirty six battleships built and building compared with Germany's thirty six should have credited the United States with thirty nine battleships of heavier total tonnage and armament than Germany.

Out of Dreadnaught Class.

They also developed that the navy statisticians have this year for the first time taken out of the dreadnaught class the Battleships South Carolina and Michigan, which have dreadnaught armament and have put into the German dreadnaught class four ships of eleven inch gun armament. The year book's comparison gives Germany thirteen dreadnaughts and the United States seven while the congressmen insisted the correct figures should give Germany and the United States nine dreadnaughts each. Detailed results of their investigation of the year book's comparison were announced by Representatives Witherspoon and Hensley in a statement which was in part as follows:

"It was developed that the United States appeared to have three less battleships than Germany because three of our battleships were omitted from our list, namely the Oregon, Massachusetts and the Indiana. The reason suggested by the secretary of the navy for the omission of these three battleships was that they were old and obsolete, but it appears that in the German list is included ten battleships, to wit: Kaiser Friedrich III, Kaiser Wilhelm II, Kaiser Karl der Grosse, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, Kaiser Barbarossa, Wittelbach, Zähringen, Witten, Mecklenburg, Schwaben, each of which has a tonnage of 10,977 built at the same time as the omitted battleships and each having a main armament of four 9 4-10 inch guns, while the Oregon, Massachusetts and Indiana have a main armament of four 13 inch guns and a tonnage of 10,283 tons each.

German Ships Inferior.

"A high English authority was presented to the secretary of the navy showing the inferiority of these ten German battleships with their 9 4-10 inch guns to battleships armed with 12-inch or 13-inch guns.

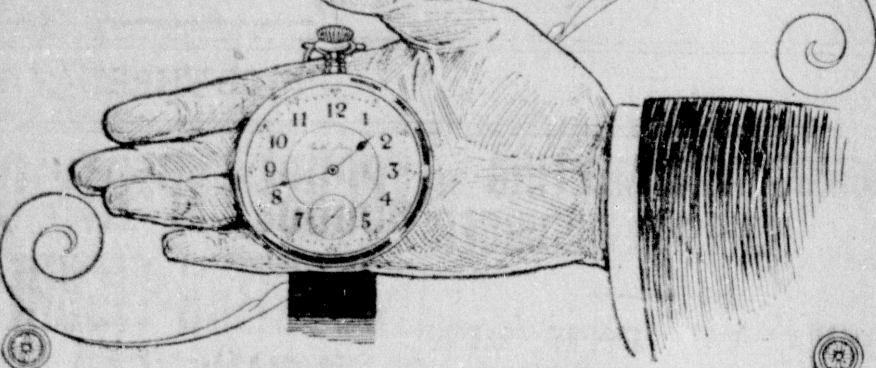

"It was further developed, that, according to this comparison in the navy year book the tonnage of the German battleships was from 10,974 which was the smallest, to 12,391, which was the largest of twenty German battleships and that of 27 American battleships the smallest was 11,346 and the largest was 16,000 tons. The secretary admitted that, so far as the tonnage of the battleships was concerned the American navy was greater than that of the Germans as well as an excess of seven battleships in favor of the American navy.

Superior Power of Guns.

"In regard to the armament of the German twenty battleships it was developed that ten of them were supplied each with four guns, 9 4-10 in caliber and the other ten each with four 11 inches in caliber while all of the 27 American battleships are each armed with four 12-inch or 13-inch guns, showing the great superiority of the American battleships in point of power of guns.

"Comparing the dreadnaughts of the German with those of the American navy it appeared according to

GREEKS PROTEST AGAINST CHARGES OF INHUMANITY

Soldiers of Greece Tolerant and Bulgarians Brutal According to Testimony of Turks Themselves.

"Greece Asks for Justice," is the title of an article in a recent issue of "Atlantis," the national organ of the Greeks in America, in which they protest against a number of libellous stories which have been spread in this country by supposed Bulgarian influence and which accuse the Greeks of inhuman conduct during the late war in the Balkans. The Turks themselves, says "Atlantis," praise the humanity and toleration manifested by the Greeks as contrasted with the inhumanity of the Bulgarians. The attention of the Journal was called to this article by two Jacksonville Greeks, John Carl and Basil Geanetos.

Ahmed Djavid Bey, an officer in the Turkish army says in making a comparison between the two peoples: "The Bulgarians have walked roughshod over every principle of mercy and humanity. They have violated every law written and unwritten. Their first attack is always directed against women. The Greeks on the other hand have shown themselves to be as human as their allies have been savage. Greece has shown herself intelligent and moderate. Her statesmen have openly declared that religious differences shall not be considered in the administration of justice and have even appointed True Believers to government positions. By such great-hearted toleration Greece has won the favor of Europe and the admiration of the Turk."

The Bulgarians are being aided from all the countries of Christendom while the Greeks are bearing their troubles alone, the writer goes on to state. "From the sad spectacle of a nation calling for material help to foreign lands we beg you to turn to the inspiring vision of a nation silently bearing her burdens and intelligently repairing her losses with a unanimous effort that unites prince and peasant, colonial immigrant and worker at home. We invite you to consider not only the self-denial of the Greeks of America, who gave their savings often their all, to aid their country, but also the patriotism of the young men, who even now, are leaving their lucrative employments and safe home of their adoption to return to Greece and enlist in the army that will toll, not alone in its military capacity, but as the workmen who must slave to construct where destruction has passed and to bring prosperity once more to the waste places left desolate by massacre and pillage."

HOPPE TO DEFEND TITLE.

New York, Feb. 2.—Before a select gathering of followers of the green table sport Willie Hoppe, the balk line billiard champion of the world, will defend his 18.2 balk line title against George Sutton, the Chicago cue expert, in a match at the Hotel Aster tomorrow night. For over a month each of the principals has been training and practicing for the big strain he will have to undergo in the match. Neither can say anything after the contest about not being in condition, as each has been doing great work in the way of preparation.

Hoppe holds both the professional championship titles for 18.1 and 18.2 balkline. He has successfully defended both against the foremost of the American experts and this has led the lovers of the art of carams to ask one another if he is not invincible. The condition of affairs is regarded as similar to that which prevailed some fifteen or twenty years ago, when "Napoleon" Ives swept all of the championships into his bag. None of the veterans of that day, not even "Wizard" Schaefer nor "Student" Slosson, could wrest the titles from Ives. As a consequence there was a slump in professional matches, which prevailed until Ives' death. Followers of the game are wondering whether or not Hoppe is to repeat the page of billiard history which Ives wrote in his day.

ELOQUENT TRIBUTES MARKED RITES FOR CULLOM

Great Throng Heard Dunne and Sherman Eulogize Dead Statesman.

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 2.—As the sun was sinking Sunday night the body of Shelby M. Cullom was laid to rest in the shadow of the great Lincoln monument in Oakridge cemetery. Against the sunlit Western sky was silhouetted the great bronze statue of Lincoln, which stands near the base of the stone shaft.

Statesmen from all sections of Illinois and hundreds of people of Springfield stood in the snow about the flower-lined grave as the interment was made shortly before dusk. It was an impressive climax of a simple funeral service at the State Capitol, which was a veritable review of Illinois political history with which the name of Cullom has been inseparable for half a century.

In the House of Representatives in the state capitol from the same platform where five times Mr. Cullom was presented with a federal senatorial toga, eloquent tributes were paid to his life and work. To the right hung the massive painting of Lincoln; to the left a companion picture of Douglas. A huge American flag was draped about the speaker's stand. In the center aisle was the casket, covered with floral designs. On either side sat members of the supreme court, state officers, a small remnant of the old-time associates of Lincoln and Cullom.

Many Floral Tributes.

All of the living governors of Illinois were present. Gov. Dunne sat upon the rostrum with United States Senator Lawrence Y. Sherman. They delivered eulogies of the deceased, as did Rev. Donald C. McLeod, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church, who conducted the services. Dr. McLeod was pastor of the Presbyterian church when Senator Cullom attended in Washington. Just to the right of the rostrum sat former United States Senator A. J. Hopkins, with former Governors Joseph Fifer, Charles S. Deneen and Richard Yates.

The White House wreath, expressing the sympathy of President Wilson and family, was of white roses and myrtle. Robert Lincoln, son of Abraham Lincoln, a personal friend of the dead statesman, sent a splendid tribute of violets, palms and magnolia leaves. Mrs. John A. Logan, wife of Gen. John A. Logan, patriot and army chief, sent a wreath of white roses and lilies of the valley. The city of Cairo, Ill., gave expression of its appreciation of the life of Senator Cullom in the form of a great seal worked in white carnations embossed with violets, giving the name of the Southern city.

In addition to these pieces, there were many fine wreaths and figures from both outside and local people and organizations.

OBSERVE FEAST OF CANDLEMAS.

New York, Feb. 2.—"Candlemas Day" was observed with special services in all the Catholic churches of New York today. The ecclesiastical festival was instituted by Pope Gelasius I in the year 492 in commemoration of the presentation of Christ in the temple and of the purification of the Virgin Mary. The festival is celebrated throughout the Christian world annually on February 2, and derives its name from the fact that in the Roman Catholic churches candles are blessed on this day and carried in procession in commemoration of the words of Simon spoken of the infant Christ, "A Light to Lighten the Gentiles."

Weihl's Midwinter Sale!

THE PURCHASE OF TAILORED APPAREL

is like any other purchase—it does not pay to skimp quality. There is no satisfaction in owning an inferior suit of clothes—no pride of possession. You know, and so does any one else familiar with clothes, that it possesses no marks of individuality.

Quality demands a fair purchase price. When a suit or overcoat is offered at a ridiculously low price, you may be assured that they are not clothes you would care to own; that however absurd the sum you pay, you are not receiving fair value for it.

We carry the finest grade of woollens obtainable, and we offer the most reasonable prices possible, quality considered.

WHAT WRITERS HAVE SAID OF FOUR INTERESTING BOOKS

Some Sentence Sketches of the Vol-umes to be Reviewed Tonight at Public Library—2nd Number of Series.

"Little Glimpses of Fascinating Books," will be the title of the second of the literary evenings at the public library. Miss Grace Cowgill, Miss Anne Jackson, Mrs. A. L. Adams and Miss Marie Scott will give short sketches, respectively of Dostoevsky's "Crime and Punishment," Richardson's "Clarissa Harlowe," Schreiner's "Woman and Labor" and Thackeray's "Henry Esmond." Following are some brief characterizations of the books and what some prominent writers have said of them.

"Dostoevsky is the most characteristically national of all Russian writers and his especial domain was the one which Tolstoy and Turgenieff did not understand, and have touched not at all or only incidentally, the great middle class of society or what corresponds thereto in Russia. As a compact subtle psychological study, his "Crime and Punishment" cannot be over-rated."

Thackeray relates the following anecdote of Lord Macaulay: "I spoke to him once about 'Clarissa.' 'Not read Clarissa,' he cried out. 'If you have once thoroughly entered on 'Clarissa' and are infected by it, you cannot leave it. When I was in India, I passed one hot season at the hills, and there were the governor-general, and the secretary of government, and the commander-in-chief, and their wives. I had 'Clarissa' with me; and, as soon as they began to read, the whole station was in a passion of excitement about Miss Harlowe, and her misfortunes, and her scoundrelly Lovelace. The governor's wife seized the book, and the secretary waited for it, and the chief justice could not read it for tears.' Macaulay acted the whole scene; he paced up and down the Athenaeum library. I dare say he could have spoken pages of the book—of that book, and of what countless piles of others."

Oliver Schreiner's account of her life says: "My father was born in Wurttemberg. He studied at Basle and went to South Africa as a missionary. My mother is English, the daughter of a Presbyterian minister, and for generations my ancestors have been strict Puritans. I was born in the heart of South Africa, in a solitary mission station. I was many years old before I ever saw a town. My father died many years ago. My mother has become a Roman Catholic and is living in a convent in South Africa." Very little more has been published in regard to her life; but from her pen have come two books which have been widely read and much discussed: "The story of an African Farm," written several years ago; and "Woman and Labor" which was published in 1911.

Of "Henry Esmond," Harriet Martineau says, "Esmond appears to me THE book of the century in its department. I have read it three times; and each time with new wonder at its rich, ripe wisdom and at the singular charm of Esmond's own character." Anthony Trollope owned that he regarded Henry Esmond as the first and finest novel of the English language.

the year book, that the German navy has 13 and the American navy has only seven. This result is brought about by including in the list of German dreadnaughts four ships which are armed with 11-inch guns, all of the dreadnaughts in the American navy are armed with 12 or 14-inch guns. The result was further brought out in the year book by taking out of the dreadnaught class the Michigan and the South Carolina, each of which has a tonnage of 16,000 tons and each of which is armed with eight 12-inch guns.

Would Each Have Nine. "If the Michigan and the South Carolina had been put in the list where they belong and where they were placed in the 1912 navy year book and previous to that time and the four German ships which have only 11-inch guns were taken out of the dreadnaught type and put into the battleship class, where they belong, then the dreadnaughts in both of the navies would be the same in number—nine.

In regard to the tonnage of the dreadnaughts of the two navies it was developed that the lowest tonnage in any German dreadnaught was 22,354 tons and the largest 24,308, while in the American navy the lowest tonnage is 16,000 and the highest 27,000 tons.

Greater Calibre and Power. "Comparing the dreadnaughts of the German navy with those of the American navy in point of guns it was developed that four of the German dreadnaughts each has an armament of twelve 12-inch guns and the other five an armament of ten 12-inch guns, while in the American navy it appeared that two had an armament of eight 12-inch guns, four of ten 12-inches, two of twelve 12-inch guns and two of ten 14-inch guns, showing the great superiority of the American dreadnaughts in the calibre and power of their guns.

"Comparing the two navies with reference to dreadnaughts now building it appeared that the smallest dreadnaught now being built in the German navy is 26,575 tons and smallest building in American navy is 27,000 tons, that the largest dreadnaughts building in the German navy have a tonnage of 28,000 and the largest building in the American navy have a tonnage of 31,400 or an excess of 3,400 tons over the largest German ships now building. Comparing the dreadnaughts now building further with reference to the armament it appeared that the four smallest German dreadnaughts now building have each ten 12-inch guns and that the two largest now building have eight 15-inch guns while all the dreadnaughts now building in the American navy have 14-inch guns, three of them being supplied with ten each and two of them with 12 each.

"It was further developed in comparing the American navy with the Japanese navy that the American navy has 39 battleships and the Japanese navy only 19, including all those in both navies that are built and building."

FIRST POSTAL TRAIN.

It Was Tried in 1864 and Proved a Thorough Success.

The first trial of a postal car service, in which mail matter is assorted while in transit, was made in 1864 on the Chicago and Northwestern railway. The scheme was a thorough success, and railway mail service was inaugurated that year on several of the important railway lines and was gradually extended all over the United States and adopted by other countries.

In 1874 the American railway mail system was thoroughly organized on a permanent basis, with eight territorial divisions, each in charge of a superintendent subordinate to a general chief at Washington.

This service was among the first to adopt a modern classified civil service, appointment of railway mail clerks having always been made for a probationary period, permanent employment being conditioned on satisfactory service and conduct and removal based on good cause only. The service has been gradually increased and new divisions organized and is now operated on practically every railway.—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Swordsmen of the Sea.

The swordsmen of the sea are the swordfishes, spearfishes, sailfishes, swordfishes and the narwhal, with its spirally twisted straight tusks. Swordfish inhabit the warmer seas, while the narwhal is a creature of the Arctic. The tusk of the narwhal is hollow nearly to the point and is spirally grooved. It uses its tusk as a weapon of defense and to plunge through the ice to breathe, the narwhal being a cetacean. Sometimes when a boat has been caught in the ice great damage has been inflicted by the inquisitiveness or blundering of this great creature, that sometimes reaches a length of fifteen feet, with a tusk of from six to ten feet in length. As a rule, however, the narwhal uses its tusk for the purpose of killing fish for food. In the castle of Rosenberg the kings of Denmark have long possessed a magnificent throne made of tusks of this cetacean. These tusks are harder and whiter than ivory.

Both are about 19 years of age and were taking large chunks of the coal. It is thought that they were carrying them to the Wade residence at the corner of East Washington and North East street.

"The Healing of the Thakur's Child" was the title of a clever missionary play presented Sunday evening at Central Christian church by members of the Endeavor society. Harris, the medical missionary; John Ruyle, the Thakur; Russell Cummings, the Thakur's child; Frank Markille, the pundit; William Kitter, the compounder; Amelia Carlson, Ruth McCarty, Helen Harney, Dallas Hagan, and Clifford Carlson. CITY COUNCIL HELD REGULAR SESSION MONDAY

Anticipation Warrants to be Ready About the Middle of the Month—Light Company Seeks Authority to Lay Gas Main on West State Street.

The Monday morning session of the city council was very brief and when adjournment was made it was to Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. At this session the tax levy ordinance will be in readiness and will be passed thus completing the legal procedure necessary to make possible the payment of anticipation warrants.

The roll call showed that all members of the council were present and the minutes of the last two regular meetings were read by City Clerk Pyatt. Reports of officers were received and approved. The clerk reported that he had the bills for January pay roll on file and same were ordered paid when funds are available. Mr. Knollenberg stated that it would be possible to issue anticipation warrants about February 14th, and that approved bills were in shape for that time. Mayor Davis suggested that the tax levy ordinance should have speedy attention in order that there can be no delay with reference to the issuance of warrants and Mr. Knollenberg stated that he could have this document ready for action by Wednesday morning.

W. B. Miser, superintendent of the Jacksonville Railway & Light Co., asked if the council intended to take up West State street this year and if there was no such intention that his company wished to have authority to lay a ten inch gas main from Church street west to Webster avenue now. He said that on account of an inadequate gas main there now that the service in the second and fourth wards is not as satisfactory as it should be.

Mayor Davis stated that the board of local improvement had in mind to call for a hearing of the repaving work referred to and called in City Engineer Henderson, to ask if he had begun making the estimate for this improvement. Mr. Henderson replied that he had the estimate made for that he had the estimate made for the East State retopping and that he would soon be at work on the figures for West State street. Mr. Miser said that the company would wait until some action was taken concerning the paving, as it would be more satisfactory to all parties concerned to put in the proposed gas main when paving was being done. On motion of Mr. Brennan the council adjourned until Wednesday morning at ten o'clock.

WHO KILLED THE GOOD MAN

"A good man dies when ever a boy goes wrong."

The awful storm of sorrow and heart ache of the past week, has touched every heart and home within many miles of Morgan county, and, like every other great wrong, those most innocent are the ones who suffer most. We know too well where the homes were made desolate and the hearts were crushed, but the question that is of vital importance is, who killed John Henry?

If the home loving, affectionate, neighborly, John Henry was murdered and a fiend incarnate went stalking through the neighborhood seeking whom he might devour, the question is, Who killed John Henry? Who gave him his first drink? Who gave him his first appetite for alcohol? Was it inherited, or who were the "hale fellows, well met," who helped him to acquire an appetite? Was it the man who believes in "personal liberty" and voted for a licensed saloon?

The widows of the three victims your rum believed in personal liberty, too. The little innocent child had a right to not only his liberty, but he had a right to be a comfort to his poor crushed mother.

All of the children have a right to grow up in happy homes. Hasn't the dear little broken hearted woman a right to reap some of the results of her labor to make life worth while? To make her children and yours happy and good and useful? To make it more easy for the young people to grow up to a good, useful manhood and womanhood, than it was for the one whom she loved best? Who gave him the hope that killed his reason and froze the last drop of love and manhood out of him? Who wagged their heads and roared at other people's business? Who sowed the first seed of criticism? God pity you! God pity our! "God is not mocked, for whatsoever a man (or woman) soweth, that shall he reap." There are worse things than killing the body. God never let anything live that was as contemptible as a busy body. The buzzard following the carrion is not so loathsome as is the busy body. The buzzard picks the decomposed meat from the bones of its victim, and leaves its bones white and clean, but the busy body picks the sweet wholesome life out of its victim and leaves its character blackened and unclean.

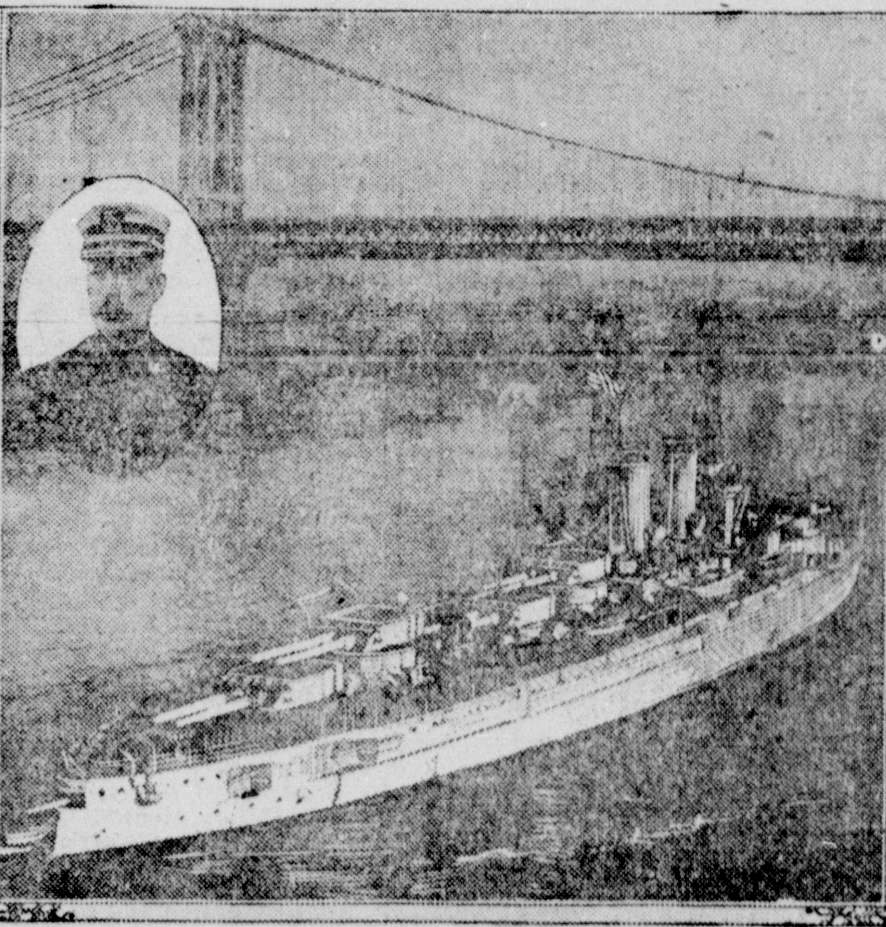

God pity the one who adds one drop more of sorrow or heart ache, or pain.

Can any decent man ever again say, "Whisky will leave you alone, if you leave it alone." The precious little woman who has so valiantly fought for "God and home, and a clean land," has the heaviest load to carry. God said, "Be still and know that I am God. For a small moment have I forsaken thee, but with great mercies will I gather thee; I know thy works and thy love and faith and ministry and patience; I have called thee by thy name; thou art mine; I will never leave thee nor forsake thee."

Has God ever broken His word? Must His beloved co-worker suffer all of this, so that the awful DRINK CURSE must be driven out of Jacksonville? Did you have to have this awful "slaughter of the innocents" before your eyes are open to the awfulness of the drink curse? Can all the revenue in a thousand years give compensation for the dear dead? Can all that you save (?) in taxes give John Henry the good name that was his a week ago?

Can you reckon what he paid for one drink? Are you willing to risk paying a like price? There are ten thousand moderate drinkers who are

Great Arkansas on "Sick" List; Diphtheria Sweeps Over Vessel

The great Dreadnought Arkansas is the latest "sick" battleship of the American navy. Diphtheria broke out after she had returned from the Mediterranean trip, and she was quarantined at the Brooklyn navy yard. Sixteen cases were discovered just as Captain Roy C. Smith, commander of the vessel, and half of his crew of 1,000 men were about to take shore leave. The battleship Ohio was the first warship to be placed on the "sick" list because of the Mediterranean cruise. Smallpox broke out aboard her as she was speeding back to America on her way to Mexican waters. She was quarantined at Guantanamo, Cuba. The Arkansas is here seen as she looked going under the Brooklyn bridge, New York, on her return from the cruise. Captain Smith is also shown.

worse at heart than he ever dreamed of being. Do you dare take the risk? Will any man ever dare sell or give whisky again? John Henry may go on trial for the life of others, but busy yourself with the question, Who killed John Henry? The man who robbed him of his reason is as guilty as he.

As superintendent of press work of the W. C. T. U. I want to thank the Jacksonville press (both papers) for the kindly sympathetic way in which you have given the tragedy to the public. It shows very plainly that your "brotherly love" is greater than your desire to be sensational. God bless you, and may His loving arms carry all of the dear stricken one through this fire of seven fold heat.

WAGE SCALE CONFERENCE.

Philadelphia, Feb. 2.—The advance guard of coal mine operators and miners reached Philadelphia today in anticipation of the meeting of the joint meeting of the wage scale conference, which will begin its deliberations tomorrow. The conference will endeavor to agree upon wages and conditions of labor to govern the central competitive field, which is composed of western Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Illinois. The new agreement will come into effect on April 1, on which date the present agreement will expire. Unofficial statement made by both operators and miners afford ground for belief that less difficulty will be encountered in reaching an agreement this year than has been the same in some previous years. The miners are said to appreciate the fact that the present condition of the mining industry is not such as to warrant any radical demands for increased wages. They desire a readjustment of present scale along certain lines and will also demand modifications in the present agreement. But the most of them are comparatively of unimportant nature and it is believed that no point is likely to arise in the negotiations on which a failure to agree might lead to a general strike.

INVESTIGATION OF LABOR TROUBLES.

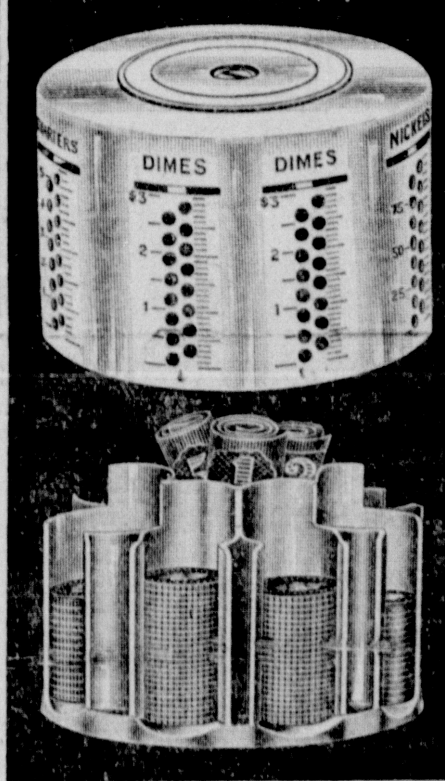

Washington, Feb. 2.—The federal commission on industrial relations is to hold an important meeting this week to receive reports on labor troubles now existing in various parts of the country and to discuss plans for further procedure. It is expected that reports will be presented to the commission by the government experts appointed to investigate the great strikes in the Colorado coal fields and the Calumet copper region.

The coming meeting will mark the beginning of the real work of the commission, the members of which were appointed by president last summer. The work laid out for the commission is of a most important character. During the year now begun the commission will visit many of the industrial centers of the country. Representatives of labor and capital and persons who may be said to represent the public generally will be invited to appear and tell what they know about local conditions as they effect the relations existing between capital and labor. The commission has the power to compel the attendance of witnesses. The commission will report the results of its investigations to congress before the end of the present year and is required to make its final report not later than August 23, 1915.

BIG CUT IN EXPRESS RATES.

Washington, Feb. 2.—In accordance with the recent order of the interstate commerce commission lower express rates were put into effect today throughout the country. The experts of the commission estimate that the reduction in charges averages about 17 per cent. The commission's order for reduced charges also requires the various express companies to comply with some new regulations for improved methods of service.

Colonel Goethals Named First Governor of the Canal Zone.

Colonel George W. Goethals was named by President Wilson as first governor of the Panama canal zone. It was firmly believed that this action would decide the question whether he would accept the police commissionership of New York city. He had tentatively agreed to take the municipal position provided he were retired from the army and the police commissionership of New York was given greater powers. He has been chief engineer of the canal since 1907. The Panama canal commission will be abolished April 1, and Colonel Goethals will take full charge. He is shown here on the right with former President Taft, the picture having been taken in the canal zone on Taft's last official visit.

EXPRESS COMPANY OFFICIALS CONSIDER RATE REDUCTION

Companies Will Make an Effort to Make a Success of the New Rates.

New York, Feb. 2.—Executive officials of the five big express companies met today to consider economies of operation which they say will be necessitated by the reduction of rates which went into effect today upon the order of the interstate commerce commission.

Speaking for all the companies F. F. Flagg, first vice-president of the American Express company said:

"The companies felt that the adoption of such greatly reduced rates must be reviewed with the gravest apprehension as to the outcome. They are, however, confronted with three alternatives, first, an appeal to the courts; second, the dissolution of the companies through liquidation; or the giving of a fair trial to the low rates."

"But with a realization that the express service is essential to the commercial interests of the country and that the shipping public was entitled to the protection afforded by the continuation of express service provided the new conditions would afford a just remuneration to the express companies, they decided on an earnest effort to make a success of the new rates."

CORONER'S VERDICT RECOMMENDS HENRY BE HELD TO GRAND JURY

and she replied that Mrs. Henry was there and he told her to come in and she did so and said Mr. Henry was after her with a shotgun. She sat down at the table and began eating and papa went to the door and said he thought he heard some one climbing over the hedge near the house. We heard some one on the porch and Mr. Henry threw open the door and said to his wife:

"G— D— you, I will kill you. You have been to the ladies aid society too much and have treated me like a dog and have mistreated your family."

Mrs. Henry then got up from the table and got behind the door. She tried to shut the door on him and he put the barrel of the gun in and stopped her. She said:

"If you don't stop that I will go to the telephone and call for help" and he said he would kill the first one that did that. My little brother Harry, began to cry and Mrs. Henry said:

"Are you not ashamed to come here and make such trouble?" And again she tried to close the door on him. He said he wasn't ashamed and she went to his side and tried to get the gun from him and in the struggle the gun went off and the lead went through the west wall of the kitchen and that blew out the light and ma called to me and asked me where Harry was and I said he was with me and she went into the sitting room with the baby and I went with her. While we were in the sitting room the second shot was fired. There was no light in the kitchen when the second shot was fired. Mr. Henry had told papa not to get up for he would shoot him if he did. Papa held up his hands and cried and told Mr. Henry not to shoot him for the sake of his wife and babies. Mamma asked him not to shoot for what would she do with the little baby?

The table was east and west and my papa was sitting at the east end near the porch door with his back to the door and turned around to talk to Mr. Henry. I jumped up before the first shot was fired and the shot missed my head about a foot. My father was shot in the right side.

I have known Mr. Henry for years but do not know that he was ever at our house drunk. Papa went over to his house to help take care of him when he was drunk.

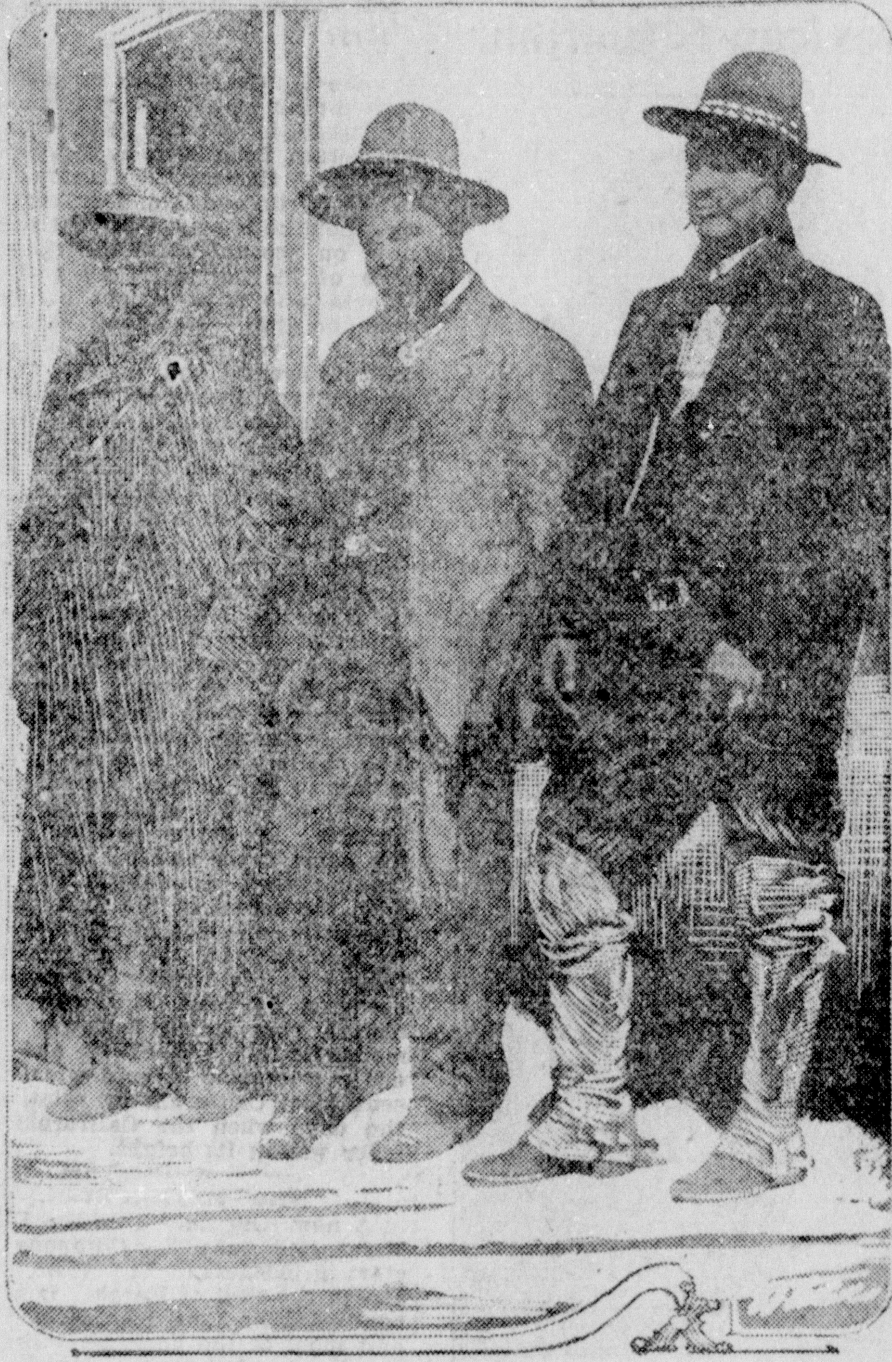

The coroner then proceeded to the home of Mrs. Crain and took the testimony of the witnesses there. The first was Mrs. Crain.

My name is Martha Mabel Crain and I live at Midway, Woodson township, about two miles from Woodson, and I am the wife of the late Everett Crain. The evening of Tuesday, January 27th I was in the kitchen doing my work at about seven, I should think. I was a little late as I was not feeling wholly well. I stepped on the porch a few minutes. It was quite warm and I had all the doors except the front one open. My husband had finished supper and was in the front room reading the Republic and he remarked that he had read a certain piece that was in it before. I said yes, that I had read it in the Globe-Democrat. I went back to the kitchen but before I went I heard children's voices but didn't know whose they were. I saw a lantern coming down the road and heard some voices from the west. I sat down on the back porch and as the voices drew nearer I realized that they were those of Mrs. James Cooger and Mrs. John Combs and I supposed they were coming to spend the evening with us. I went into the kitchen and there noticed that I had not covered the table. I then heard a faint knock at the front door and supposed the ladies had decided to come in and spend the evening with us. A young man named Laban Thurston who is working for us opened the door. I didn't go to the door till the trouble was all over but my oldest boy went with Thurston when he opened the door for the child is never afraid of anything. I have a faint recollection of my boy, Oswald standing in the door and the first words I heard were from Everett who said "come in." He didn't rise out of his chair. I don't know but he said "come in before the door was opened. He often did that. He saw no one was coming in so he rose out of his chair and some one said "Come out here, Everett, I want to see you or a little business."

He and Thurston were playing a game called Fox and Geese and had not finished. The boys were right about them. The boy always was that way with his father. Everett partly opened the door and saw the form partly of a man and the rim of his cap. I am not sure about the voice. I thought it was John Henry but I cannot be certain for I am not good at naming people by the sound of their voices.

Everett partly opened the door and leaned around to see who it was and then I heard the shot and was afraid some one had come to get us all. I had read of so many dreadful things in the papers I was dreadfully afraid. Thurston then slammed the door and said "very well and the wind being in the south I think it likely the door was blown open but I don't know in my confusion. The door blew open and then came the second shot and it was awful close too. The second shot came and the fire from the gun came into the room. I did not see where the second shot struck but believe it struck my child for there was no other way for him to go. All I know is that I came in and saw them lying on the floor. After the first shot was fired Everett hollered and fell back toward the couch. I didn't see him in my confusion. He fell to the east and sank on the floor. I believe the baby ran to him to see what the matter was for he was always with his father. After the first shot was fired I was afraid they were after all of us. I began to holler and cry and I guess the boy that works for us shut the door for I know that I didn't. My boy Oswald began to holler and said he knew it was John Henry. I told him not to talk that way but he began to cry and said he knew it was John Henry. I said hush for it is dark and we don't know who did it but the boy said he knew it was John Henry. He said he knew his cap and voice. He said it several times.

Three Leaders of Victorious Army of Mexican Revolutionists.

Here are the three chief rebel generals now active in the field in Mexico against President Huerta's federal troops. Left to right they are General Ortega, General Pancho Villa and General Fierro. This trio are the leaders of the army of 10,000 men formed to attack Torreon and march on to Mexico City.

I tried to get a doctor. I went to the telephone and asked for a doctor as soon as he could get here. It was not more than a minute from the first shot to the second. I turned my attention to the bodies. The boy said they are dead and you can't do anything. I said let us get him on the couch. I asked Everett if he couldn't speak to me. I screamed and went to the telephone and said if they couldn't get a doctor in Woodson to go to Murrayville.

As soon as the shots were fired I told Thurston to go to Midway and ask some one to come to us.

I didn't see the baby when he was shot but I think the second shot must have struck him in the head. I found Everett lying on the east side of the room and the baby at foot of the couch. I asked him if he couldn't speak to me. He groaned but couldn't speak. I wanted to see how badly he was hurt. If he was dead I feared nothing could be done till the coroner came. Thurston and I lifted Everett to the couch for I hoped there was some life in him.

Everett and Mr. Henry were on the best of terms. John bought a hog of Everett last fall, the first one he killed. I don't know that it was John Henry that killed my husband. Everett loaned Henry money while he was in Woodson and it was paid up all right in good feeling. He came here the night before Everett shipped some hogs to St. Louis and sorted them for him as Everett didn't fully understand it. The couch was east and west against the north side of the room, the lower end a little out from the wall. Mr. Crain just hollered when he was shot and he might have been heard to Midway. He was shot in the breast, and the boy in the back of the head.

I never knew exactly how John Henry felt since that arbitration. The day of Code & Lightfoot's sale Everett bought a colt and Henry was going by in a big wagon while the colt was in our lot and Henry turned his head and said:

"That's fine one, Everett."

After that I was sure he felt all right.

"I don't know that Everett ever had anything to say about the cow trouble. He never said anything to me. The day Henry was driving the cow to my father's house I was alone in the house here with my baby. I didn't think my father, Mr. Grander, had any use for a young heifer but he always kept his word and if he said he would take an animal he would do it. He never backed out of a trade. My father and my cousin Mr. Fuller, were in the buggy and Mr. Henry was on horseback driving the cow home when they met. My husband had nothing to do with the cow trade. My father made it all himself.

The one who did the shooting was on the porch; I saw the rim of his cap as he stood there.

Laban Thurston.

I live on a place just back of this which we have rented of Mr. Crain, but I was here Tuesday evening, January 27th. Mr. Crain and I were sitting by the front door just east of it. I was talking of going over to the Midway store a while when the door shook a little and Mr. Crain said there was some one at it. I said I didn't know and he said:

"Open it and see."

I went to open the door and Mr. Crain's little son Oswald, ran in front of me and some one in front on the porch said:

"Is your pap in?"

"Yes, he is."

"Tell him to come out a minute; I want to see him on some business."

Mr. Crain raised part way out of his chair and told the man to come in but he said:

"No, you come out. I want to see you."

Mr. Crain stuck his head part way out leaning half around the door and the shot was fired. He began pitching forward and hollered two or three times. I slammed the door shut but it came open again. The boy was over with me and the little one who was killed had run to see what was the matter with his father when the second shot was fired, and it hit him. I saw no one but caught a glimpse of a man when I opened the door, but I don't know who it was.

After the second shot was fired I shut the door again and didn't go out till a big crowd was here. I do not know what were the relations between Crain and Henry as I came here only last January. I did not know John Henry.

Before the first shot was fired I had hold of the door knob and stood behind the door when the gun went off. After Mr. Crain fell Oswald said it was John Henry who did the shooting. I saw no one at the window before the shots were fired. My attention was not directed toward the window on the east side of the room. The curtain may have been down. The light was on a little table just east of the door. Crain was struck in the breast and he boy in the back of his head.

Little Oswald Crain then testified. I am seven years old. The night my papa was shot I was in the house and went to the door and saw John Henry. I was standing on the porch outside. He was standing at the edge of the porch on the ground. He told me to tell my papa to come out and I went in and told him. I am sure it was John Henry. He was standing on the ground right by the porch.

(The porch is a small one, not more than five feet wide.) The boy went out with the jury and stood on the outer edge where he said he stood the night of the tragedy and said Henry was just beyond him. The jury then adjourned to the residence of John W. Henry, the accused man and took the testimony of two daughters.

Emma Henry.

I live in Woodson township, a mile south of the town. Am a daughter of John W. Henry. Papa came home the night of Tuesday, Jan. 27 and went into the sitting room. He didn't eat any supper. We asked him to come to the table but he did not do so. We had all finished supper and the work was done and we were in the kitchen washing our teeth. He came out and said:

"Where are you all going to-night?"

Mamma said, "Nowhere, we are going to finish that book we have been reading aloud."

He said, "We all were going to stay here."

He then went and got his gun and I told mamma to run. She went and he asked me where she had gone and I told him I didn't know. He searched the house and then left and we heard no more till the shots were fired. Very soon he came back where we were and took some shells out of the bureau drawer. He loaded his gun, kissed us all around, said good bye, told us to be good, never to forget him.

Where he went or in what direction I don't know. When we said we were going to read the book he didn't seem to know what we said. He looked wild all the time, not at all natural. He was sitting in his chair when we asked him to supper. Lucille asked him first and I asked him. I didn't notice that he had been drinking. He didn't act that way. I think he first returned home about a quarter before six but am not certain. He seemed all right then. When we asked him to supper he said no and nothing more, made no complaint. He didn't say anything about having partly done his work and having some more to do. He merely kissed us all, said good-bye, told us to be good and not forget him and that was all.

I was listening over the telephone when he came in the second time after the shots were fired. I didn't know what he would think seeing me there but he didn't say anything about it. I put up the telephone and came out to him. All of us children were at home, at the time. He took the gun and loaded it and came out but said nothing. He looked wild though. He said nothing but it seemed to be his intention to kill mamma.

He and mamma had had no trouble at all and I know of no trouble between him and Mr. Ezard. They have always been good neighbors, exchanged work and papa has often sent Ray over there to help him.

Lucille Henry.

I am thirteen years old the daughter of John W. Henry, was home the evening of Tuesday, Jan. 27th when our father came home from Woodson. After supper he came to us and said we were getting ready to go somewhere, he knew we were. We were washing our teeth. Mamma said we were not going out but were going to read a book as soon as we were through washing our teeth. He said he would stop our going and went and got the gun. Mamma was on the east side porch and we told her to run for we were afraid papa would kill her.

He came and asked if mamma went out of the door or not and I told him I didn't know where she was. He then went out of the door and that was the last we knew till we heard over the phone that Mr. Ezard was dead. I was keeping the baby when the shot was fired. He came back after the shot was fired; it might have been half an hour he was gone. I am not sure. He left his gun and came where we were. He took some things out of his drawer, some shells and some papers. I don't know what they were. He told us all goodbye and told us to be good and not forget him.

I don't know whether he was drinking or not. I never before saw him come home in such a condition as he was that night. He had not been drinking for a long time. We begged him not to go but he would. When he came home he looked wild, did not say anything about Charles Ezard. I do not know of any trouble between them. They have always been good neighbors and helped each other. Do not know of any trouble between papa and Mr. Ezard. When papa left he went out of the north door and that was the last we saw of him.

The jury then adjourned to Woodson for dinner and after that to Colton's hall where the work was concluded.

J. T. Thompson, embalmer and funeral director of Murrayville. I was called to the home of the late Everett Crain the evening of January 27th and found the bodies of Everett Crain and Howard Crain, his son, dead in the room. Mr. Crain had wound in his breast about midway of the ribs, just right of the center of the breast. It was two and a half inches in diameter. It did not extend to the back which was not injured.

The back part of the boy's head was torn off just back of the left ear. The hole was five or six inches in diameter at the base of the brain. There were no marks on the back except such as might be made by falling on the carpet. I had heard nothing about the trouble before I arrived. The wounds must have been made with a gun. There were no shot scattered about the room but out of the wounds we got some into our instruments. The shot was

BLACK SILK LIQUID STOVE POLISH

Hooray! Blood Free of Impurities

Eczema Gone! Acne, Tetter, Rash, Pimples, Carbuncles, Boils—Banished!

It is certainly remarkable how quickly the action of S. S. S., the famous blood purifier, shows itself in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular and glandular activity to select from the blood, or from the fine network of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S. This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return. Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine network of blood vessels in the skin is constantly selecting from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue, and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless.

You will be surprised and delighted at the quick change if you will use S. S. S., the famous blood purifier. Its action in the skin is quite sensational. These facts are most fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by the Swift Specific Co., 213 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. They are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. His efforts to banish it brought out these little olive-colored tablets. These pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does but have no bad after effects. They don't injure the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. Why cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best not to take calomel, but to let Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Most headaches, "dullness" and that lazy feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "lousy" and "heavy." Note how they "clear" clouded brain and how they "perk up" the spirits. At 10c and 25c per box. The Olive Tablet Company, Columbus, O. All druggists.—Adv.

RHEUMA WILL STOP URIC ACID DEPOSITS

Rheumatic Complications Checked and the "Human Sewers" Restored.

The Kidneys, Bowels and Skin are the "human sewers" which carry off the impurities in the blood. When these are clogged the uric acid sediment lodges in the muscles and joints and Rheumatism follows. RHEUMA, the great remedy for all forms of the terrible disease, checks the deposit of Uric Acid.

"I suffered from rheumatism for six years. Tried different doctors, with no relief. I have taken three bottles of RHEUMA and am entirely free from the disease."—P. W. MILLER, Catawissa, Pa. Your money will be returned if it fails: 50 cents a bottle. For sale by all druggists.—adv.

HOT TEA BREAKS

A COLD—TRY THIS

Get a small package of Hamburg Breast Tea, or as the German folks call it, "Hamburger Brust Tea," at any pharmacy. Take a tablespoonful of the tea, put a cup of boiling water upon it, pour through a sieve and drink a teacup full at any time! It is the most effective way to break a cold and cure grip, as it opens the pores relieving congestion. Also loosens the bowels, thus breaking a cold at once.

It is inexpensive and entirely vegetable.

small. I am not well enough versed in guns to give the number.

Dr. Ralph Jones.

I live in Woodson where I am a practicing physician. I was called to the home of Charles E. Zard the evening of Tuesday January 27th. I found Mr. E. Zard dead. He was lying on the east porch of his home, his body on the porch and his feet within the room, lying on his back. I turned him over and found a large amount of blood and a large wound under his right arm, a little to the back of center. The wound was two and a half to three inches in diameter and did not go through the body. There were no other marks on the body. Mrs. Charles Taylor went with me; also Lawrence, Charles and Sam Henry, and Mrs. Charles Henry. Mrs. J. H. Henry was there. I was there within fifteen minutes of the time he was shot. There were no signs of life. I was there ten minutes when the call came to go to the Crain home. We took the body and laid it on the couch. Amos Megginson, father of Mrs. John Henry was there.

While we were trying to call the coroner the call came to go to the Crain home. Will Henry went with me. We found the body of the child lying on the floor where it had fallen. Mr. Crain had been picked up and laid on the couch. Mr. Crain's wound was in the lower breast right of the front. The whole charge had gone in. Death must have ensued in a very short time. I examined the child and found a large part of the head had been blown off and contents scattered about on the floor. I picked up a piece of bone but did not probe the wound. I did not probe the wounds. I ordered them to clean up the blood. Mrs. Cooper and several persons were there and helped. I should say the wounds were made by the shot of a gun. I saw Henry a while the evening of the shooting but did not talk with him.

Edwin Bradley.

I live in Woodson and as a grain buyer. Have an office near the Chicago & Alton railroad track. The evening of January 27th John Henry came to my office as he got off the train which gets here a little after four.

I had a conversation with him. He was duly sober and in ordinary spirits and I saw nothing unnatural about him. He was in my office about twenty minutes. He had bought some corn of me and had come to see about settling for it. One load was yet to be delivered. It was well toward five when he left the office. I saw him cross the street and that was the last I saw of him. I did not notice anything out of the way in him. He said the whiskey proposition in Jacksonville was getting to be a pretty hard one. He said he had tried to get some there and couldn't. Said he had had a drink that day but he showed no effects of it.

Tells of Henry's Return.

John Henry, an uncle of the accused, said to a Journal reporter: "About half past ten Friday night I was called up by the telephone and asked who wanted me and the reply came:

"It's Maje; John has come home." I went right down there and found John and he was a pitiable looking object, dejected, muddy and forlorn. We asked him where he had been and his mind seemed a blank. Maje asked him:

"Where is the gun, Johnny?" "I don't know where it is." "What did you do with it?" "I don't know." "Can't you call it to mind?" "I guess maybe it's down in a pile of ties near Murrayville."

"How did you get away from Murrayville?" "I hardly know. I remember being in a car about the time they were going to load it with sand and someone said I must get out. It seemed there was a ferry across the river there but it is dim in my mind. Anyway, I got across but don't know how, and the next thing I have a dim recollection of sitting on a curb stone by the walk. A man came along and asked me if I was sick and if he could do anything for me. I suppose he got me to the boarding house where I woke up and found myself feeling so bad. The landlady came and said I had eaten nothing since I had been there and should have something but I was not hungry. She said there was a restaurant under the hotel and I went down there and while at the table picked up a Post-Dispatch and saw in it an account of the killing of three people at Woodson and my name connected with it and a hint that there was a difference between my wife and me and then I decided to go home and give myself up."

Mr. Henry said he felt certain that there was no animosity between John and his wife. He was always indulgent and while it might not have been his taste to attend all the meetings that she went to there was never any bitterness between them.

Sympathetic Feeling.
All about the village of Woodson there seemed to be a feeling of pity for the unfortunate man and an inclination to accept his story especially as he had always borne such an excellent reputation. His father is certainly to be pitied. Strong man that he is he weeps like a child as he speaks of the dreadful accident. His sympathies are fully aroused for his son's victims and the bereaved families appeal to all.

Mrs. E. Zard bears up wonderfully well though she is laboring under a dreadful strain. Her daughter also showed the balance and composure of a woman and caused many words of praise by her calm and quiet demeanor as she gave her testimony to the jury.

Mrs. Crain was dreadfully undone and wept almost constantly. She seems utterly prostrated by the terrible blow and asked to have a lady friend by her side as she testified.

Many people rely upon Chamberlain's Cough Remedy implicitly in cases of colds and croup, and it never disappoints them. Mrs. E. H. FINDS SOME OLD FAMILY KEPSAKES

John C. Groves Uncarved Collection of Articles Which Have a History.

John A. Groves who recently returned after an absence of 23 months in Russia, is now in the city. After his return from Russia, Mr. Groves was for a time at the Canton plant of the Parlin and Orendorff company by whom he is employed, but is here now on account of the serious illness of his daughter, Miss Zulah Groves who is a patient at Passavant hospital. Not long since the family moved from Grove street to Mound avenue and in the moving process some family relics which had long been lost sight of, were brought to light. In the little collection which Mr. Groves is showing is an air tight bottle containing a piece of wedding cake which seems to be in a good state of preservation, although it was placed in the bottle almost 34 years ago. An old watch in a German silver case is another object of interest and in it are evidences how names change with passing years. The watch belonged to Mr. Groves' uncle and a repair tag bears the name John Greaves, 1838. The spelling of this name in interesting to Mr. Groves, especially because of his experiences while abroad. In Berlin people spelled his name Groes and on the Russian frontier they pronounced the name with the accent of the first syllable. The little collection of relics referred to also includes a ring which belonged to his mother whose death occurred 54 years ago. There is also a ring which has war time memories linked therewith and there are two nuggets of gold which were sent from California by relatives in the days when the California gold fever was at its height.

The father expects to still remain in the ministry.

WORLD'S LATEST FINANCIAL AND MARKET NEWS

UPWARD EXTENSION PREVENTED BY BEAR INFLUENCES

Renewed Selling of Rock Island Securities and Pressure Against Various Investment Stocks Are Disturbing Features.

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—Extension of the upward movement in stocks
was prevented today by a combination of bearish influences. The most disturbing factor was renewed selling of Rock Island securities which became acutely weak. Last week's report that the company would be re-organized was followed today by intimations that dividends might be suspended on the Chicago Rock Island and Pacific stock which is security for the Rock Island collateral four. Denial of this report lessened the volume of selling, which for a time was of unusually large proportions, but the stocks reached the lowest prices in the history of the company. The common dropped 3½ to 95; the preferred 4½ to 14½ and the collateral four 2½ to 45½
and the refunding four 2½ to 75½.
Partial recovery was effected later.

The effect on the general market
of the drop in these securities was heightened by extensive selling here for European account. London unloaded perhaps 35,000 shares principally Union Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Steel and Anaconda. Another unsettling feature was pressure against various investment
stocks, among which American Telephone, Canadian Pacific and New York Central were conspicuous.
Western Union sold off in sympathy with American Telephone, these shares being influenced by the postmaster general's recommendations in favor of government acquisition of the wire systems.

December reports of the larger eastern railroads were distinctly unfavorable. New York Central showed a decrease in net of $3,087,000,
was largely responsible for heaviness
of the stock. Pennsylvania's operating income fell off $703,000. New Haven reported a deficit for the month of $114,000. With nothing in the way of bullish news to counteract the effect of these influences, traders on the long side were unable to bring about a resumption of the upturn of the last week. The movement in general was not large but the undertone was heavy and before the end of the day some of the popular stocks were depressed a point
or more.

DEPUTY FORFEITS BOND; FIVE OTHERS ON TRIAL

DEPUTIES ARE CHARGED WITH MUR- DER OF TWO STRIKERS

Difficulty is Encountered in Obtaining Unbiased Jurors—Defendants Express Great Concern Over Disappearance of Their Leader
Thomas Raleigh.

HOUGHTON, Mich., Feb. 2.—
Only five men responded to their names when the case of the six deputies charged with the murder of two striking copper miners was called in the circuit court today and the $5,000 bond of Thomas Raleigh, the missing defendant was formally declared forfeited. Counsel announced that the other two men were ready to go to trial and the case proceeded. Difficulty was encountered at the outset in obtaining unbiased jurors. When court adjourned at five o'clock, eleven men occupied seats in the jury box but neither side had exercised a single one of its peremp-tory challenges. Twenty-nine veniremen had been examined and all but those left in the box and one other had been excused for cause because they acknowledged a fixed opinion.
The exception was a man disqualified
from serving because he was a deputy sheriff. As the regular panel was exhausted today, Judge R. C.
Flannigan ordered a special venire
of 100 men to be called.

Judge Flannigan who won fame in the Roosevelt libel case at Marquette last spring is presiding at the trial of the so-called Seeberville case because Judge O'Brien is distantly related to one of the defendants.
Raleigh's disappearance was the most interesting development of the day. Although he had not been seen here since last Wednesday night, his bondsmen did not learn until this morning that he would not appear when his case was called. Raleigh was at liberty under $10,000 bond but only half this amount was forfeited because the accused deputies are to have two trials, one for the murder of each of the slain men.
Special Prosecutor George E. Nichols raised the point that Raleigh might be present when the second trial began.

The men on trial are James Cooper, William Groff, Arthur Davis, Harry James and Edwin Polking-horn. Raleigh, Cooper, Gogg and Davis are employees of Waddell-Ma-hion corporation of New York; the other men are deputy sheriffs employed by the county.

John C. Mann, a Houghton hotel
proprietor and Frederic W. Denton, general manager of the Copper Range Consolidated Mining company are bondsmen for each of the accused men in the sum of $10,000.
Efforts have been made to apprehend Raleigh and have him returned here for trial. He is believed by Sheriff Cruise to have left Houghton
for Chicago on the night train last Wednesday.

He came here from New York last July when the strike began and has been in this territory continuously since that time.

Concerned Over Disappearance.
The five other defendants expressed great concern over his disappearance. They are on trial now for the murder of Stephen Putrich.
The killing of Alois Tjian on the same occasion also has been laid
at their door.

Prospective jurors were closely questioned by opposing counsels as to their local affiliations. Three of those tentatively accepted admitted

membership in the "citizens' alliance." Another admitted that he belonged to the Western Federation of Miners. The state has 75 peremptory challenges and the defense 150. A great portion of this number probably will have been exhausted by the time the jury satisfies both sides. The killing occurred at Seeberville, near Painesdale on August 14th last. Only two of the men were deputies, although it is said
the Waddell agents had been sworn in as such in ignorance of the state
requiring three months residence in the state. With Raleigh acting leader the six had gone to a miner's boarding house to arrest two men who were alleged to have threatened to kill a guard at the Champion mine. Failing to find the men they started to leave the premises, when the defense will claim
one of them was struck by a missile from behind. It is alleged that the deputies or some of their number then started firing and killed Put-rich and Tjian.

UNITED MINE WORKERS INCREASE SALARIES

INCREASES VOTED AMOUNT TO ABOUT $10,000 A YEAR

All Increases Made in Convention at Indianapolis are Declared Carried by a Standing Vote—Other Amendments Are Added to the Constitution.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Feb. 2.— Increases in salaries, amounting to about $10,000 a year, were voted late today by the United Mine Workers of America in convention here.
The salaries of the vice-president and secretary-treasurer were increased from $2,500 to $3,300, that of the editor of the Miner Workers' Journal from $1,500 to $2,000, international executive board members from $4 per day to $125 a month for the time they are employed and tellers, auditors and delegates to the American Federation of Labor conventions
from $4 to $5 a day.

The salary of the president was increased last week from $3,000 to $4,000 a year. It was necessary for a roll call to decide the increase of the president's salary but all the increases today were declared carried by a large standing vote.

Other amendments added to the constitution provide a fine of $10 on any officer found guilty of giving the names of the membership to others than officials entitled to them
and make possible the establishment of sick, accident and death benefit funds by districts, sub-districts and local unions, where it is desired by two thirds of the membership. There was considerable opposition to the sick fund.

One Ohio delegate declared that his union had a sick fund about a year and that, if it had continued
much longer, the entire membership of the union would have been on the sick list.

A resolution requesting the committee on industrial disputes and trade relations of the United States congress to investigate the strike in Brook county, West Virginia, was adopted as were also resolutions indorsing social welfare work among the miners and directing the various districts to levy assessments, benefit of the Michigan copper strikers.

The hall resounded like a miniature tower of babel when the question of printing the Mine Workers' Journal in other languages than English was under discussion. The union numbers among its members practically every nationality on the globe and for a time it seemed that a delegate from each nationality was trying to gain the floor and speak in favor of printing the journal in his native language. It finally was decided to change the form of the journal to that of a magazine and publish it in two languages in addition to English.

The report of the scale committee will be taken up tomorrow and the convention is expected to be ready to adjourn Wednesday.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

The remains of Solomon Bull arrived in Waverly Monday from Eureka Springs, Ark., and were taken to the family residence in the Hart's Prairie. The funeral will be Wednesday morning at 10:30 o'clock
from the Hart's Prairie Baptist church and interment will be made in the Dalton cemetery.

BEGIN INSTALLATION WORK FOR CITY'S TUNGSTEN LIGHT SYSTEM

Employees From Various Departments Lend Aid—Except 200
Lamps To Be Ready on Week's Time.

As the hoods and tungsten lamps
ordered by the city light department have been received and as one regulator is to be shipped today from Cleveland, the work of placing the new hoods and sockets in position was begun Monday, although the rainy weather interfered to some extent with the work. While the changes are being made, which will make it possible to use tungsten lights on the city's wires, all light service from the plant must be discontinued.

It was decided to do this work
now because it will be moonlight
this week and the time is therefore opportune. Not only employees of the light department but also employees from the fire and police department will be utilized in the work, and horses and wagons from the two cemeteries will be used in hauling the supplies to various points. Commissioners Brennan and Knollenberg are also active in the plans in force the cost of installation will be held to a minimum.
Fire Chief Woods is one of the workmen and has the advantage of long experience in wire work.

Unless something unforeseen happens 20 tungsten lamps will be in position by Saturday of this week.
The first ones to be installed will be located where the old arcs have been. Two hundred additional lamps will be placed in position just as fast as the work can be done by regular employees after the first 200
are in working order. It seems safe to say that within two weeks Jacksonville will have more light than has been true for a long time on the streets.

How to Prevent Bilious Attacks.

"Coming events cast their shadows before." This is especially true of bilious attacks. Your appetite will fail, you will feel dull and languid.
If you are subject to bilious attacks
take three of Chamberlain's Tablets
as soon as these symptoms appear
and the attack may be warded off.

TO GET OUT WOMEN VOTERS.

Chicago, Feb. 2.—Tomorrow will be registration day for the April election, when the women of Chicago are to have the first opportunity to exercise their new rights of franchise. Appreciating the importance of making a good numerical showing at the polls as well as the importance of some of the issues involved in the election, the local suffrage organizations are putting forth every effort to induce the women eligible to vote to register tomorrow. The women's clubs have appointed leaders and workers for every ward and precinct and a house to house canvass is being conducted. The work is being conducted on an absolutely non-partisan basis.

HEARING HELD TODAY.

Springfield, Ills., Feb. 2.—A hearing on the proposed increase of one cent a hundred pounds in grain traffic in the state, will be held before the state utilities' commission here
tomorrow.

Grain men from all parts of the state are expected to be in attendance. The new rate was suspended by the commission several days ago
pending a hearing on the increase.

Mr. and Mrs. John Young.

Mrs. Taylor Berry, who has been

week, came home Wednesday.

Mrs. J. A. Lieter, who has been sojourning in Jacksonville for two weeks, came home on the four o'clock train Tuesday.

the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. C. J. Henderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Hall called on Mrs. Sarah Collins Sunday afternoon.

Miss Edith Hitchens of Broadway spent Sunday with her friends, the Shibe family, southeast of town.

Dr. Willerton came out Wednesday to attend a sick cow belonging to J. M. Lieter. Mrs. cow is doing fine and J. M. has recovered the same old smile he used to exhibit.
Good cows are worth taking care of.

Mrs. Collins is slowly improving.
The Baptist Ladies' Aid will meet Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Ed.
Lieter on Broadway.

Dr. Willerton came out Saturday and prescribed for a sick horse belonging to Earl Rexroat.

Mrs. S. C. Fulmer of Indianapolis, Ind., gave a talk on mission work at the Baptist church Sunday morning.
She told us of the great need of help from the churches and of the apathy and drowsiness of church people in general in this important work.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Beavers and son, James Robert, returned to their home Friday night from Hot Springs, Ark.

John Dyer of Virginia boarded the 4 o'clock train Saturday for home,
having spent a week in the Bend,
doing carpenter work for John Branner.

On Sunday night a series of meetings commenced at the Christian church.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Young entertained at a noon dinner on Friday
the following relatives. George Liter, Mrs. Sarah Stevenson and son, John, Mr. and Mrs. Willard Young,
Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lieter. All reported a splendid time.

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Young entertained at a six o'clock dinner Saturday the following: Mr. and Mrs.
Ona Crum, Mr. and Mrs. John Daniels, Prof. and Mrs. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Underbrink, Mr. and Mrs.
Harry Martin.

If there was a ground hog in or near Literberry he could have seen his shadow on Monday, if he had been wide awake and on to his business. We are doubtful if there is a ground hog in the county. We knew of one, but John Young killed him
last summer and we are looking for an early spring.

FUNERAL NOTICE.

Funeral services for F. H. Peters
will be held at the late residence, 1275 South East street, this afternoon at 2:30 o'clock in charge of Rev. Clyde Darsie, pastor of Central Christian church. Interment will be made in Diamond Grove cemetery.

It is testimony like the following that has placed Doan's Kidney Pills
so far above competitors. When peo-

ment of a Jacksonville citizen:

G. V. Skinner, blacksmith, 853

says: "I am convinced that Doan's

WIFE BELIEVES HER HUSBAND WROTE LETTER

Mrs. Charles Sample Makes Statement that Account of Accident Was False and Written to Bother Her.

Several weeks ago the Journal contained a story to the effect that Charles Sample, while working in the flooded district near Houston, Texas, was killed by a gasoline explosion and that his remains were sent to Seattle, Wash., headquarters of the firm for which he was working. The letter was written to a Jacksonville friend and signed by Joseph Richey. Since that time, however, Mrs. Sample has examined the letter, as previously mentioned in the Journal and declared that it was her husband's own hand writing. In regard to the matter she has made the following statement:

To whom it may concern: Mrs. Charles Sample of Meredosia, Illinois, wife of Charles Sample, who was reported killed near Houston, Texas, on December 23, 1913, wishes to state to the public that the report as published in the papers January 14th, 1914, purporting to be a letter from one Joseph Richey, written December 30th, 1913, stating that one Charles Sample was killed by an explosion, etc., etc., has proved to be written by Charles Sample himself.

Mrs. Sample wishes further to state that at the time of the said false report, nor since, has she believed, nor been convinced that the same was true, for the reason that since her husband departed, she has been expecting some such report from him, since he, at many times previous when partially under the influence of liquor, stated that some day Mrs. Sample would receive news of his death, but that it would be false, and this it has proved to be. Mrs. Sample believes the letter was written simply to worry her.

(Signed) Charles Sample.

EXPERIENCES EXTREMES IN WEATHER.

Joseph Crain of Atlanta, Ga., who was called here on account of the death of his brother, Everett Crain, experienced several different kinds of weather on his trip north. In Georgia the men were busily engaged in picking cotton and in Tennessee picking for spring work was being rushing. In Kentucky things were at a standstill while in the southern part of Illinois he experienced rain storms, after leaving St. Louis for this city he encountered a snow storm. When he received the telegram announcing his brother's murder Mr. Crain barely had time to get ready and catch a train for Woodson.

BANQUET AT GRACE CHURCH CLOSING MISSIONARY RALLY

Mr. Hanford Crawford and Dr. J. Y. Aitchison Address Gathering of Business Men, Ending Two Day Campaign.

With stirring missionary addresses by Dr. J. Y. Aitchison and Mr. Hanford Crawford at Grace M. E. church Monday evening before 150 of the business men of Jacksonville and the adoption of resolutions committing the Protestant churches of the community to a program of systematic giving, there closed one of the most extensive campaigns for the cause of missions ever held in this city. Sunday the program consisted of morning meetings in the individual churches, a union meeting in the afternoon at State Street Presbyterian church and two mass meetings Sunday evening, one at Central Christian church addressed by Hanford Crawford and Dr. L. O. Baird, the other at Centenary M. E. church addressed by Dr. Aitchison and President Bowen. Conferences were held Monday morning and afternoon and a luncheon was served at noon at Central Christian church by one of the circles of the Aid society. The missionary team having this united campaign in charge were Hanford Crawford, president of the St. Louis Y. M. C. A.; Dr. J. Y. Aitchison of Chicago; President A. J. Bowen of Nanking university, Nanking, China; and Dr. L. O. Baird of Chicago, western secretary of the American Missionary association.

The men's banquet at Grace M. E. church yesterday evening was addressed by Mr. Crawford and Dr. Aitchison and attended by about 150 business men of the city. Supper was served by the ladies of the circles of the Aid society lead by Mrs. Nelson McMurphy, Mrs. S. W. Black and Mrs. H. L. Griswold. After the speeches some resolutions were read by J. W. Brecken expressing the sentiment of the churches of the country as to the plea of the campaigners and pledging these churches to participation in the "every-member-canvas."

The resolutions follow: "In view of the nation-wide 'every-member' canvass for missions and benevolence to be made on or before March 1, 1914, we pledge our prayers and best efforts:

(1) To the more thorough education of the membership of our congregations concerning missionary work both at home and abroad.

(2) To carry through and organize a complete personal canvass for missions and benevolences in our own congregations with the purpose of enlisting the entire membership as supporters of missions.

(3) To extend the influence of the united campaign so far as we may be able throughout and beyond our own community and our own communities."

The extension committee appointed to carry these resolutions into effect and initiate the "every member" canvass consists of J. W. Brecken, T. V. Hopper, C. L. Mathis, H. C. Busby, G. T. Douglas, W. C. McCullough, G. H. Harney, E. G. Saye, Dr. A. B. Applebee, W. C. Springgate, Drs. E. C. Harris and C. C. Cochran. Some excellent quartette music was furnished in the course of the evening by E. A. Hearn, W. E. Day, Henry Pinkerton and Charles E. Collins.

The conference throughout the day Monday were held at Grace M. E. church. The morning session had to do with missionary methods and the individual congregation as a unit of missionary enterprise. The meaning and method of operating the "every member" canvass was the theme of discussion at the afternoon conference.

The Sunday Afternoon Meeting. Speaking at State Street Presbyterian church Sunday afternoon Secretary L. O. Baird said in part:

This is a day for great things; we are intensely practical. It is a cooperative age in business and while men seem sordid there is a deeply seated spiritual learning. Bill board men voluntarily contributed to the cost of placing huge pictures of the birth of Christ on the boards to be followed by scenes from the life of General Grant. While business builds sky scrapers it will not do for the church to build one story structures. It costs thousands to punish an adult evil doer; a few hundreds might have saved the boy. Missions include schools, hospitals and other good enterprises. We must work together to accomplish the best results.

President A. J. Bowen of the Nanking university told how five denominations had united in the grand university with a large body of students, doing away with sectarian barriers and working together for the kingdom. His speech was grand. Mr. Aitchison of Chicago dwelt on the urgent importance of unity. A divided church will accomplish nothing while in union there is strength. If we are to overthrow opposition we must show something better. A humble layman dared in a ministerial gathering to broach the subject of foreign missions but the presiding officer told him to sit down; that God would convert the heathen when He saw fit. What great things have grown from humble beginning. Two-thirds of three fourths of the churches give nothing to have or foreign missions. Can we not do better?

President Bowen and Dr. Aitchison spoke at Centenary M. E. church Sunday evening, giving two excellent discourses on the value of missions and the great things being accomplished by American energy and American consecration in the lands beyond the sea.

At Central Christian church Dr. Baird and Mr. Crawford were the leaders. The former speaker told of the efficacy of the missionary work in some of the backward mountain districts of this country and of some of the miracles wrought through faith. Mr. Crawford spoke of three great needs in connection with missions: Well trained men and women, wise policies and money.

BOARD APPROPRIATES MONEY TO HELP PAY VISITING NURSE

Will Co-operate With Anti-Tuberculosis League and Woman's Club.

At a regular meeting of the Board of Education Monday evening an appropriation of $500 was made toward a visiting nurse's salary during the school year. This was the only matter considered during the meeting.

At 8:25 o'clock the meeting was called to order with all members present excepting Member Bavington, who is out of the city. On motion of Member Hall the reading of the minutes was dispensed with, on account of illness in the family of Member Wells demanding that he return home at the earliest possible moment.

A committee consisting of Mrs. A. L. Adams, Miss Louise Capps, Dr. Grace Dewey, Mrs. C. E. Black, Dr. Josephine Milligan, Mrs. Andrew Russell, Dr. Carl B. Black, Dr. H. C. Woltman, Andrew Russell and Dr. C. E. Cole, was present to submit the matter of the board co-operating with the Anti-Tuberculosis league and the Woman's Club in securing a visiting nurse to work with the Anti-Tuberculosis league and at the schools.

Dr. Cole, as medical director of the Anti-Tuberculosis league, was called upon to present the matter. He stated that the league had found it impossible to maintain a nurse all of the time, and that it had been decided to ask the board to work with the league in getting a nurse so that she could devote a part of her time to the work among the school children and part to the work of the league. Miss Capps stated that the Woman's Club had pledged $10 per month for 12 months to aid in the work, and the others present spoke of the advantages that would be derived from such action.

The members of the board spoke in favor of the move and Member Hall stated that he was of the opinion that the board should bear the expense. After some discussion of different phases of the proposition $500 toward the nurse's salary during the school year was carried.

After this action the board adjourned until Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock when the regular business will be taken up.
